Treasures dearly and preciously “Origin of Fate” and hope be it last “forever”. This was the very first phrase written in the Longevityology textbook. A person’s life can change just because he encounters a lucky chance which induces a small change in his life, sometimes even the whole world can change accordingly as in the story of an apple in Newton’s Law and Watt’s boiling water.

Longevityology was introduced in Malaysia since July 2000. It is about seven years old now and is available in many parts of the country. Looking back, it was merely upon the request of Madam Wang Yue Tuan, that Longevityology was introduced into Malaysia which had benefited so many people in this country. I remembered it was way back in early 2000; when I received a request through a long distance telephone call from Madam Wang whom I did not know at that time. She related if Malaysian had a chance to learn Longevityology, it will be able to help them to relief and reduce their misery, sorrow and pain suffered from illnesses. Without any hesitation I agreed upon her request and a few months later, the very first Longevityology class was commenced in Alor Setar and follow by Ipoh shortly. Initially it was only two to three hundred people who attended the class but in the recent class conducted in Klang it was fully packed with more than two thousand learners. This shows that “Benevolent Wishes Are Always Granted By Heaven; Kind Thoughts Are Always Blessed By Heaven”.

The success in our life is attributed to our fate. These successes always originate from either “benevolent wishes” or how we capitalize the opportunities that come our way). Today many people still do not know Longevityology. Longevityology is a very unique practice where it only involves the use of both hands. Just by placing both the hands on the affected area, the discomforts and pains of the body will be relieved and reduced positively. It is very pitiful and regretful that many people do not give themselves a chance to try and reject it bluntly. Some just refused to put it into practices after they acquired the technique. This is because many of them have negative attitude, opinions, and while others are either too arrogant or plain adamant. It can be a great loss to them despite the course being totally free of charge. At the centre, all Longevityology practitioners are strictly barred from carrying out any political, religious or business.

Currently, we have more than a hundred thousand Longevityology practitioners all over the world. Many of them have personally experienced the positive effects from seeing the impossible become possible in reality. I hope this documented testimonies of practitioners will be able to initiate and open up the minds of those who are negative, arrogant or just plain adamant, so that they can use and appreciate the positive goodness beauty of Longevityology. Hopefully through the practice many of them will be able to relief themselves of various kinds of pains and sufferings and embrace the practice of Longevityology with happiness.

At this juncture, I can see that every one of you have a compassionate heart, working voluntarily and devoting selflessly without expecting any monetary or worldly rewards. Everyone Will Greet And Respect The One With A Good Heart And A Good Conduct.

I believe when anyone devotes himself voluntarily and selflessly, and treasure the present, a future with good reward and higher karma will be assured.

“A Good Course Waits For No Man”.

“Do Not Wait For Tomorrow For Tomorrow Might Not Arrive”.

‘To all the Longevityology volunteers and practitioners, it is really touching that every one of you works selflessly. Even though the consequences of success or failure cannot be determined and quantified from your undertakings, but at least everyone of you are trying to make a change for the better in life’.

With this, I wish and bless everyone with a peaceful mind, healthy body, heart, and soul.
